

The Five Faces of Parenting

Dear Principal and Community Leaders

Highlighted again and again is the need for Parent Programs because of the value we place not only on good parenting but great parenting. Schools and communities are asked to help in this area.

The Five Faces of Parenting – written by Dr Margie Carter and John McArdle – is a school and community based program which can be:

- ✚ Be run at your community or school for your parents by an outside facilitator.
- ✚ Be run in house using the Five Faces kit (all material provided including master copies, DVD's, facilitator notes).
- ✚ Have the program run but also have in house facilitator training for ongoing use.
