FAMILIES AND CHILDREN

To be a GREAT Parent we need to put on the face of a parent. This parenting face is a multifaceted one and we call it “the five faces of parenting”. The five faces refer to the five different ROLES of the faces which all blend into the one face – wise leader; astute manager; coaching teacher; caring nurturer; careful monitor.

Just what the blend of YOUR five faces is, is something for you to discover. Read and learn how the roles come together to make one face, the face of ‘ME’, the great parent.

Children are our future.
You are their hope.
